

Abstract: My paper aims to put in a new perspective an epitome of the contemporary art and culture: the avant-garde. The red thread of the present research is the idea that the avant-garde triggered a decisive epistemological break and established a new aesthetic mode. The glosses upon the phenomenon are a pretext to rethink and augment the semantism of some important theoretical concepts.